

Pay attention to the leg colors below! If you ask someone and they make a guess: Good Luck, we'll see you before dark, we hope.

A - ReAwakening				View	Print
Dog Drool (Trail Review):”Dark, darker, and darkest”. Headlight and / or hand lights are highly recommended as trail is rocky, rooty, and damn geo-web bear traps. Pacing description, “Don’t get hit by car, flat & fast, Up, blind left turn, skinny & flat, left, left. Down, down, modest hills, don’t get hit by car, aid station. Mini Aid Station.

B - Limbo				View	Print
“An uncertain period of awaiting a decision, and intermediate state of condition.” Fast trails & easy dirt roads followed by mega turning horse trails. New color is YELLOW , with reflectors. New exit off of Potto at Doyle dirt road. Horse Trails near the end require strong visual focus and weak nostril flaring. Last mile & a half has 2-way traffic with Section E, pink. Follow Ultra signs into Hell Creek Ranch Aid Station. Drop Light Zone and Support Access.

C - This Sucks - Less				View	Print
Everyone into the muck this year but shorter swamp route than the relay. New exit from ranch, new route to Monks crossing. New aid station in back yard. Less confusing. Easy horse trails until the swamp. Ultra has shorter way through the muck than Relay. New ending is easy rail trail, backyard, road, and 2nd backyard to aid station, which is 2-way traffic against Section D-Pink. Marginal Support Access. Mini Aid Station.

E - Styx, River of Death				View	Print
The path to Hell is the river of death, "Styx". Your tormented soul is ours. First 1.5 miles has 2-way traffic in opposition of Section B-Yellow. Cool off in the Hell Creek, life jacket or swim wings optional. If a shoe comes off, just reach into the mud, there are plenty of them in there. Hell Hole Bar is a good place to mail a postcard for the HELL postmark! Bag Drop Zone at end of section. Move used bag to the Drop Dead Bag Zone for return to Half Moon.

J - Vertigo	View/Print
The Vertigo we all know & love but with the hot bean fields removed, “You’re welcome”! The recipe is a stock of nasty downhills, nice trails, sunny dirt roads, and steep hill climbs. Add a splash to top it off. At farm the Ultra splits left to the aid station while Relay splits right through the pond to the exchange.

 Dog Drool: "Can be brutally hot late in the day. Stay hydrated and cool off at the exchange pond and shower." Mini Aid Station.

K - Don't Get No Better

Head Goat & Trail Dog were scouting in the early days and encountered a couple of locals on this bit of trail. When asked how the trail was, one answered "Don't get no better", the other "Don't get no worse." So, pretty much a fine bit of trail, mostly on the Waterloo-Pinckney.
